

What part of "NO" does the bankers association not understand? The entire U.S. population should have the nuisance-reduction protection the Wisconsin citizens have. Rather than weakening provisions we enjoy and want preserved, why not include the tougher provisions in the federal law? Everyone but the business irritators will be better off - and they would enjoy the same protection in their personal lives. If it ain't broke, don't mess with it!!

Thank you for registering a strong two thumbs down to changing the Wisconsin law.
